

Information on activities in Stockholm Stress Centers Graduate School 2014

(February 2014)

The programme for the PhD activities for 2014 is finding its way and there will be quite a lot of activities this year. We have expanded our collaboration with CHESS and their Graduate School. This has so far resulted in an invitation to their collaboration with the Department of Public Health at Copenhagen University and a possibility of attending their PhD workshop in May. We are also looking at forming a joint Journal Club with invitations to both JCs. We will also try to standardize the JC format and transforming them into a PhD-course with course credits. More info is about to come on that issue. During Spring 2014 there will be no explicit PhD meeting due to many other activities, the next PhD meeting will be held after the summer, information about this is yet to be announced.

More activities may appear during the year. Info will be posted continuously. If you have any questions or requests for content, contact Erik Berntson!
